MISCELLANEOUS.

MOTHERHOOD

The greatest ambition of American men and women is to have homes blessed with children. The woman afflicted with female disease is constantly menaced with becoming a childless wife. No medicine can restore dead organs, but Wine of Cardui does regulate derangements that prevent conception; does prevent miscarriage; does restore weak functions and shattered nerves and does bring babies to homes barren and desolate for years. Wine of Cardui gives women the health and strength to bear healthy children. You can get a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your dealer.

WINE OF CARDUI

143 Market Street, Memphis, Tenn., April 14, 1901. In February, 1901, I took one bottle of Wine of Cardui and one package of Thedford's Black-Draught. I had been married fifteen years and had never given birth to a child until I took Wine of Cardui. Now I am mother of a fine baby girl which was born March 31, 1901. The baby weighs fourteen pounds and I feel as well as any person could feel. Now my home is happy and I never will be without Wine of Cardui in my house again. Mrs. J. W. C. SMITH.

THE CAPTURED DRAGONS.

When the electric car service was first opened in Korea, it furnished a most perplexing theme to the minds of the Koreans, for they could not see how the electric cars could move along without any horse or any steam engine to pull them. Many months passed without any solution being found. During these months there was no rainfall in Seoul, and the fact at once brought a happy idea into the Korean mind.

Koreans believe that rain is produced only by rain dragons that live in the sky. Now, in view of the drought, these dragons, the Koreans argued, must have been captured by the enterprising Americans, whose intention was to cause them to exhale the steam by means of which the electric cars are driven on. In support of their argument they pointed to the blue sparks that are often seen in the engine room of the electric railway company and said that the flames were those which the dragons vomited in the agony of being compelled to manufacture the steam.

This solution of the electric car mystery and of the drought was enthusiastically indorsed by the ignorant populace of Korea. It then came to pass that the enraged natives wreaked their vengeance on the electric cars with terrible vehemence. The motormen were attacked and injured, the rails were torn up and the cars were destroyed.

Then, taught by these costly experiences, an engineer of the Electric Car company contrived a cunning method to outwit these Koreans. One day he caught one of these riotous people in the electric car and, driving him into the engine room, imprisoned him there all the night. There was the formidable mechanism of the electricity, but no dragon. The sight was a complete disillusionment for the Korean. He spread the report among the other superstitious people, and they reluctantly abandoned their crazy notion, and the cars were unmolested.—Japan Weekly Times.

The Sneezing Superstition.

The custom of saying "God bless you!" when a person sneezes dates from the time of the Patriarch Jacob. The rabbis say that prior to the time when Jacob lived a man never sneezed but once; the shock consequent was certain death. When Jacob came on the scene, he interceded with the Master and obtained a relaxation of this rigid law, subject to the condition that in all countries when a person sneezed he himself, if alone, or a friend if one happened to be near should make a pious exclamation. This soon crystallized into one general form, that of "God bless you!"

It is rather singular that this curious custom is now observed in one form or another in most European countries today. In Germany the sneezer is saluted with "Your good health!" in Ireland with "God bless your honor!" In Italy and Spain similar expressions are used. The Russians, in order to be odd, I suppose, exclaim, "How do you do?"

Care of the Watch.

Always wind up a watch as nearly as possible at the same time every day and do it as smoothly as possible to avoid sudden jerks. Most watches are now made keyless, but if a key has to be used it should be kept perfectly clean and free from grit or flue, says an exchange. If a watch is hung up, it must have some support at the back, and if laid horizontally it is well to place some soft substance under it for more general support; otherwise the action of the balance will cause a pendulous motion of the watch and cause much variation in time. The watch pocket must be kept as free from dust and nap as possible.

A Linguist.

"Mamma," exclaimed little Gertrude, rushing into the house terribly excited, "I thought you said Mr. Fritz couldn't talk anything but German."

"Well, he can't, dear. He has been in this country only a few weeks, and"—

"But, mamma, when the boys were snowballing and Fred Williams and Charley Johnson fell over each other he laughed right out loud in our very own language."—Chicago Record-Herald.

To Whip Cream Successfully.

The cream must be sufficiently thick to hold the air and must be very cold and kept cold during the whipping. A small churn made from tin will whip one quart of cream in two minutes. Without a regular whip put the cream into a bowl and with an egg beater or "syllabub" churn beat for a few moments, then skim off the whipped portion from the surface and drain in a colander, and so continue until all the cream has been whipped.—Ladies' Home Journal.

BURKE'S SARCASM.

Our fathers in the troublous days of the Revolution had no warmer or truer friend than was Edmund Burke, the British statesman, before whose eloquent thunder the proudest magnates quailed. On April 19, 1774, he delivered in parliament his celebrated speech against the unjust taxation of the original thirteen American colonies. On March 22, 1775, he delivered another powerful and eloquent speech in behalf of the Americans, wherein he handled the policy of the government rather severely. Nor had he spared the king.

Upon taking his seat on this occasion one of his majesty's ministers of finance arose to take him to task for having cast contempt upon the king, fancying, no doubt, that if he could divert the attention of the commons from the administration to the monarch he might break the force of Burke's strong philippics. Burke listened until the gentleman had concluded, and then, addressing the speaker in a very quiet and subdued manner, as though the opposition he had called up was of but slight consequence, he said:

"Sir, the honorable gentleman has exhibited much ardor, though but very little discrimination. He should know that, however I may reverence the king, I am not at all inclined to extend that reverence to his ministers. I may honor his majesty, but, sir, I can see no possible reason for honoring his majesty's manservant, his maidservant nor his ox [a particular glance at his opponent] nor his ass!"

Cloves Are Flowers.

Cloves are the unopened flower of a small evergreen tree that resembles in appearance the laurel or the bay. It is a native of the Malacca or Spice islands, but has been carried to all the warmer parts of the world, and it is now cultivated in the tropical regions of America. The flowers are small in size, and grow in large numbers in clusters to the very end of the branches. The cloves we use are the flowers gathered before they are opened and while they are still green. After being gathered they are smoked by a wood fire and then dried in the sun.

Each clove consists of two parts of a round head, which are the four petals or leaves of the flower rolled up, inclosing a number of small stalks or filaments. The other part of the clove is terminated with four points, and is, in fact, the flower cup of the unripe seed vessel. All these parts may be distinctly seen if a few cloves are soaked for a short time in hot water, when the leaves of the flower soften and unroll.

Booth's Strange Poster.

The world has so long been at war with the hapless printer that it will be interesting to know that at least one compositor has been capable of following instructions.

Once upon a time a printer brought to Booth for inspection a proof of a new poster, which, after the manner of its kind, announced the actor as "the eminent tragedian, Edwin Booth."

Mr. Booth did not fully approve of it.

"I wish you'd leave out that 'eminent tragedian' business. I'd much rather have it simple 'Edwin Booth,'" he said.

"Very good, sir."

The next week the actor saw the first of his new bills in position. His request had been carried out to the letter. The poster announced the coming engagement of "Simple Edwin Booth."—Chicago Tribune.

German Marriage Laws.

In Germany when a woman marries she becomes very much her husband's property. Any independence she may ever be said to have had is now given up, for her husband is indeed her lord and master. He can compel her to work and to do anything that is lawful for woman to do, and if he proves hard and unkind she has no relief or redress except in public opinion. The property which was hers before marriage becomes her husband's, and he can dispose of it according as he sees fit, even in the face of her opposition. Supposing that the pair should be divorced, the husband retains the wife's money.

Swearing a Gift.

Thomas Nelson Page once told this story to illustrate the gift of after dinner speaking, which gift he said he envied, but did not possess: "An English bishop was traveling in a third class carriage with an individual who was swearing most tremendously, originally and picturesquely. Finally the bishop said to him:

"'My dear sir, where in the world did you learn to swear in that extraordinary manner?'

SLAVES IN LONDON BANKS.

Short Hours Are a Fiction After the Clerk Is Engaged.

A correspondent writes to the London Express: "Having recently returned from India, I am struck with the white slavery that exists today in the banks of London. The hours—10 to 4—are used as an inducement to get young men to join certain banks in London, but in reality the hours are nearer 8.30 a. m. till 9 p. m. What does this mean to a young man living with his parents in the suburbs (for the mere pittance derived from this slavery can only keep him in railway fares, clothing and the daily midday meal)? It means that some of them have to leave their homes as early as 7 a. m. in order to reach their post in time. It also means that it is 10 p. m. or after before they reach home, tired, overworked and with a distracting headache. Working, as they do, in a close, badly ventilated and brightly lighted office must be injurious.

"In India, if such a thing were done—but native clerks would not stand it—the dreadful cry of slavery would be heard everywhere, and people of England would spend money and time and make every effort to bring about a remedy. Why is this not done here? We can find banks paying 15 per cent, 18 per cent and even 20 per cent per annum dividends at the expense of the poor, underpaid white slave, the unfortunate employees slaving for a wage that would surely shame the stockholder if he thought seriously of it. I asked a bank manager a day or so ago why banks are so undermanned, and his reply was, 'To satisfy the stockholders.'"

Bean Superstitions.

Every lover of rare and curious information knows that most of the ancients were "dead set" against the beans, but no modern unraveler of old time mysteries knows why. It may be truly said that there are but few philosophers of the present day that "know beans." Pythagoras admonished his pupils to "abstain from beans," but on what grounds no one knows. He was also authority for the old time superstition that any sentence written in bean juice could be seen plainly reproduced on the disk of the moon.

Andrew Lang said that the ancient folklore of beans is a most curious and interesting topic, because it seems wholly out of the question that we should ever understand what it was all about. Demeter was the patroness of all fruits and vegetables, but the ancients considered it impious to attribute to her the discovery of the bean. Heraclides, on the authority of Orpheus, declared that beans buried in manure piles forthwith became human beings.

Representative Lever of South Carolina is the youngest member of the lower House of Congress, being but 27 years old. When he made his first call at the White House President Roosevelt greeted him with the remark, "I am glad to meet the 'Baby of the House.'" Mr. Lever responded, "The Baby of the House is honored in being greeted by the Baby President." The President enjoyed it so much that he repeated it.

There are about 12,000 Roman Catholic sailors in the British navy.

Fortune Telling

does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health. There is many a woman whose future seems absolutely unclouded who is marked by her own condition for future disappointment and distress.

The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross.

Womanly health may be retained or regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Miss M. Fyfe, of Orilla, Simcoe Co., Ontario, "and two bottles of the 'Pleasant Pellets' as you advised for congestion of uterus, ovaries, and weakness, and can safely say that your medicine has been the means of restoring me to good health again, which I had not had for over three years, until taking your medicine. I thank you very much for your kind and prompt attention to my letter asking advice."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

...DR. LAWLOR RESIGNS.

Dr. William M. Lawlor, who succeeded Dr. E. A. Osborne as Superintendent of the California Home at Eldridge, eight or ten months ago, tendered his resignation to the Board of Trustees of the Home last Saturday afternoon. So far Dr. Lawlor's successor has not been named and he is still at the head of the institution and will be until Governor Gage and the Directors of the Home will have named the new Superintendent, which will probably be in a few days. The position has been offered to both Drs. Hatch and Young, but each has declined a job which is bound sooner or later to give trouble to the new appointee unless he be a man thoroughly competent to handle the unfortunate inmates of the institution at task that is by no ... easy one. Again, it is very unlikely that the Board of Trustees of the Home, after bouncing Dr. Osborne so unceremoniously last year, would ever think of reconsidering their action.

Dr. H. H. Davis, the resident physician under both Drs. Osborne and Lawlor, has been mentioned as being likely to succeed the latter, but this is mere talk, and if Dr. Davis succeeds in holding on to what he now has he will be mighty lucky, as Dr. Lawlor's friends, in full war paint and feathers, are after his top-knot.

THE SURPRISERS ARE SURPRISED

Enjoyable Social Gathering at Adler Home.

The friends and neighbors of Mr. Adam Adler tendered him a surprise party last Saturday evening, the occasion being the anniversary of his twenty-sixth birthday.

At an early hour in the evening the surprisers to the number of fifty six met at the residence of Mrs. Amelia Bates, after which they marched in a body to Mr. Adler's bachelor home. The house and grounds had been previously illuminated by an advance guard of the surprisers and presented a brilliant and inviting appearance.

Mr. Adler, who was supposed to have gone to San Francisco in the morning with the intention of returning in the evening, did nothing of the sort. He had received an inkling of the affair in store for him and determined to surprise the surprisers.

While the company were waiting in expectancy for Mr. Adler's arrival after the day's journey to San Francisco, he unexpectedly appeared before the assembled company. He was togged out in a burlesque traveling costume and trailing at his heels were two coon valets. These latter were represented by Geo. Goess and Herbert Fowler, who were blacked up and costumed in white coats and vests. Each also wore a turban, that gave them an oriental appearance.

The advent of Mr. Adler and his ebony-hued valets took the company completely by surprise and created great merriment among the guests.

Dancing, ping pong, vocal and instrumental music, iced drinks, and cigars for the gentlemen were the order of the evening.

About 11 o'clock a fine spread was partaken of. Dancing followed and at 12 o'clock the company dispersed, wishing Mr. Adler many happy birthdays.

The participants voted the surprise one of the most successful and enjoyable that has taken place in Sonoma for a long time.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Rich, Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Granice, Mr. and Mrs. Skelton Glaister, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lutgens, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shoults, Mr. and Mrs. Sharroak, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Weems; Mesdames J. Weems, A. Pauli, G. Hooper, A. F. Haraszthy, C. C. Burlingame, A. Bates, Garrison, A. Johnson, McMullin; Misses T. Haraszthy, L. Haraszthy, N. Hooper, Spencer, Knight, Poppe, Theo Bates, McDonald, Goess, Morris, McQuiddy, McGimsey, Ramon; Messrs. F. Burris, E. Morris, J. Morris, F. Pauli, L. Dowdell, L. Lutgens, R. Pauli, C. Cheney, . McQuiddy, P. McQuiddy, M. McGimsey, H. F. Bates, Van Wyk, C. Nauman, H. Fowler and G. Goess (coon waiters), G. Bulotti, Captain Heinke, Guy Weems, J. W. Burke, A. W. Adler.

Foot Crushed.

M. Anderson, an employee on the Goldstein ranch, met with a painful accident the fore part of last week. By some mischance one of the wheels of a heavily laden wagon ran over his left foot, badly crushing the bones. The injured man did not call in a surgeon to attend to the crushed foot until several days after the accident. Dr. Walliser was then sent for and placed the injured pedal in a plaster of paris cast. Mr. Anderson at latest accounts was doing well, but the injury will lay him up for some time.

Heavy Yield of Grapes.

The grape crop in this valley will be simply enormous this season. The vines are a mass of young grapes. In W. H. Daly's vineyard, formerly owned by the Heller estate, eighty-seven bunches were counted on one vine alone. The vine is an ordinary five-year-old graft tied to a grape stake and is one of many in the same vineyard.

FOREST FIRE NEAR TOWN

Started by Two Mischievious Boys.

A forest fire broke out on the east side of Caliente creek last Saturday afternoon and burned fiercely up and down mountains and through canyons for six or eight hours before it was got under control.

The fire was started on the Dutton place, otherwise known as the Wooster ranch, by two mischievious lads, who set fire to the dry grass within fifty feet of the ranch house. The wind was blowing from the west and the fire swept up the mountain side with amazing rapidity. The direction of the wind is all that saved the Dutton house and the fields and houses on E. T. Allen's farm adjoining it on the south.

After leaping over the mountains east of Agua Caliente creek, the fire spread in the direction of the Gericke and Bain ranches, burning over a large scope of territory. The Bain boys, O. W. Gericke, the Kiser brothers and a party of woodchoppers in the employ of A. Pinelli fought the fire throughout the night and by back firing had it surrounded by daylight and it eventually burned itself out.

Prompt action on their part without a doubt prevented what would have been one of the most disastrous forest fires that has occurred in this valley for years.

For a time the fire menaced the E. T. Allen, Gerricke, Bain, Willett and other ranches north and east of town, and at one time it looked as though it would sweep down toward town and devastate Mountain Cemetery. Fortunately, however, the wind died out during the night and enabled the fire fighters to obtain the mastery over the onrushing flames.

A County Charge's Gift to the Sonoma School.

In a document filed on Wednesday in the Superior Court, B. F. Campbell, G. S. Harris and R. G. Shoults, Trustees of Sonoma school district, acknowledged the receipt from the estate of the late Martin Luther Charles of the sum of $228.65 for the benefit of the school district. Charles was an old resident of Sonoma and having no relatives left his small estate to the school district. For years Charles was a county charge and as an indigent collected $8 a month from the indigent fund. When he died his savings from this source amounted to several hundred dollars, which he devised, after costs of administration had been deducted, as above stated.

Fire Alarm.

The alarm of fire turned in last Sunday was for a grass fire on the Monahan property on First street West. The fire was started by a defective terra cotta chimney which set fire to the framework supporting it on the outside of one of the cottages, temporarily occupied by the Monahan family. This was speedily put out, but sparks from the ignited woodwork set fire to the dry grass surrounding the house and only by great efforts of near-by neighbors were the flames prevented from communicating to the cottage occupied by Dickson Fussel and family. The loss was slight.

Death of a Young Man.

Leo Caminata, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Caminata, died at the home of his parents in this place last Wednesday of consumption. Deceased had been sick for a long time. Leo Caminata was born in this place twenty-three years ago. The funeral took place yesterday, the remains being interred in the Catholic Cemetery.

CITY PAVILION IS UNSAFE

Minstrel Show Changed to Union Hall.

The City Pavilion has been declared unsafe by the members of the Sonoma Fire Department and in consequence the big minstrel show to have been held there to-night by the Woman's Club will be given in Union Hall. The latest coon songs and jokes will be given by some of our most prominent young ladies and gentlemen, and the show will be followed by dancing.

The garden party in connection with the minstrels will be held, as heretofore announced, in the plaza, which will be brilliantly illuminated with electric lights. Refreshment booths and fortune-telling will be prominent features.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Professor Murdoch and Miss Jewett Re-elected Teachers.

At the annual meeting of the Sonoma High School Board of Trustees held last Saturday afternoon, the Board was reorganized by the re election of Hon. Robt. Howe as President and Robt. P. Hill, Secretary.

Professor Murdoch and Miss Jewett were re elected principal and vice principal respectively for another term.

The bill of Miss C. C. Granice for advertising and illustrating the school in the special edition of the Sonoma INDEX TRIBUNE, for $10, was laid over, although the service was well worth $20.

The school will reopen on Monday, July 28th.

A Sonoma Boy Abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Campbell recently received a letter from their son Oscar and wife, who state that they are spending some weeks in the mountains of Japan, about 90 miles due north of Tokio, 2000 feet above sea level—a very beautiful place but quite cold. Before returning to their home in Manila they will spend some time in Yokohama. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell on their way over visited Hongkong and Canton, China. Mr. Oscar Campbell was born and raised in Sonoma and his friends will be pleased to hear of his travels in the Orient.

At this time it may be well to caution our readers on the danger to be apprehended from grass fires. A little time spent in cleaning up dried grass and rubbish along sidewalks may result in preventing a serious loss.

Do you want a brand new Wheeler & Wilson $75 Sewing Machine that has never been used. If so apply at this office. This machine will be warranted and sold cheap on the installment plan. *

Glen Ellen News Items

An invitation to write for the INDEX TRIBUNE—golly, ain't I a happy boy. Just out of school and find a job all ready to take up. Wonder if a boy can get much news? Well, I'll keep my eyes and ears open and catch anything floating around. So here goes.

Lovely drives through the valley and up the numerous canyons.

There will be a garden party at the Wegner villa this evening for the benefit of the Catholic Church of Sonoma.

Lots of fish in the creek here now. I saw a big fellow caught just below the bridge yesterday that weighed two pounds.

Weather pretty warm. Fruit is plentiful. This "Valley of the Moon" has more attractions for rest, quiet and enjoyment than any other part of the State.

Tuesday night two campers, Finn and Hogan, had a little scrap up in the park. Both got filled up with red paint and settled their difficulties in the old-fashioned fistic way. No bones broken.

Town full of campers, jolly times, dances in the pavilion in the park every few nights. We young ones are always ready for any fun, particularly tripping the "light fantastic."

Everybody looks busy and happy, for all are full. Dr. O'Donnell's cottages are all full to overflowing. The Riverside, a new hotel just opened, has all it can accommodate. Glen Ellen Hotel, an old stand by, is also full. The park is crowded with campers.

Fred Schieck of Vallejo, brother of Hermann and Dave Schieck of Glen Ellen, is visiting the home of his parents in Hanover, Germany, where he is the guest of relatives. He writes to his brother that he is having a fine time and will probably extend his visit for six months and maybe a year.

Speaking of dancing, there is to be a social hop at Mervyn Hall next week (July 26), music by Professors Schieck and D'Arcy. Everybody knows their music is perfection—an inspiration that would make even a wooden legged man dance—so I need not enlarge on that subject. Just the thought of it sets me spinning around.

The Mervyn is full of guests, old and young—business men from the city, resting and enjoying the quiet of country life; pretty girls rusticating, happy and lighthearted—taking life easy. Bright-colored hammocks are strung under the trees, swings for children, everything bright and enjoyable, comfortable and restful.

Installation and Banquet.

Past Chief Ranger Joe B. Small, assisted by Dr. G. D. Rich, W. H., installed the following officers of Sonoma Court, No. 8922, A. O. F., on Thursday night last: W. H. Stevenson, C. R.; A. Baccala, S. C R.; James H. Albertson, Rec. Sec.; Henry Castagnasso, Treasurer; F C Poulson and Peter Yenni, Senior Warden and Junior Warden; John N Stademan and J J Keiser, Senior B. and Junior B.

After the business of the Court had been transacted, the members repaired to the Union Hotel, where a fine banquet had been prepared for them by mine host Wilde.

The open season for doves does not commence until August 1, in accordance with the game law passed by the last Legislature. The open season lasts until February 1, but bags are limited to fifty for any one person. A number of local sportsmen have the impression that the season opened July 15, but this is an error.

Boot Superstitions.

The Chinese value a pair of boots which have been worn by an upright magistrate, and the custom of wishing a friend a "happy foot" is still observed all through Europe.

The casual putting the left shoe on the right foot, pulling it on uneven or crosswise, bursting the shoe latch or tie, lacing it wrong and losing a button are all bad signs.—London Tit-Bits.

The Caddie Scored.

It is told of a learned professor, who was better at Greek than golf, that after a round on the links, in which he had foozled most of his shots, he turned to his caddie for advice as to improving his play.

The reply of the ruthless caddie was, "Ye see, sir, it's easy to teach laddies Latin and Greek, but it needs a head for gowff."

Uncle Tom's Cabin Coming

"Uncle Tom's Cabin," the only play that is identified with American history, which is one of the most beautiful plays in the English language, which always interests all classes of people, will be a welcome visitor next Tuesday, July 22, in a huge tent, for one night only. It has endured forty years and every year but serves to add laurels to its wreath of popularity. It breathes of loyalty and liberty; it will inculcate in the youthful mind honesty, morality and Christianity. It boldly stands for all that is good and upholds to scorn and contempt all that is bad, and for these reasons it appeals to all Christian people as the ideal of a great moral play.

Warren & Day's mammoth New York "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company is the biggest, brightest and best of all the "Uncle Tom's" companies on the road. Five great acts, twenty eight realistic scenes, culminating in twelve impressive tableaux and a superb awe inspiring transformation scene.

SLEEP AS AN INVESTMENT.

Burning the Candle at Both Ends Is a Bad Business.

One great secret of Napoleon's power was his ability to sleep. If he had but an hour for sleep, he slept an hour, even though the fate of an army or of an empire hung in the balance while he slept. General Grant was another great example of this ability to lay aside work at quitting time. Even in the Wilderness campaign, when the responsibility of the movements of the nation's armies, stretched out in battle line a thousand miles long, lay on his shoulders; when his good night commands involved all night marching and fighting of his Army of the Potomac and his waking orders might mean victory or defeat, the killing of the saving of a thousand men—under it all he lay down and dropped to sound sleep as quickly as you and I when we read ourselves sleepy over an old story book. Grant had what a great writer has called a "frictionless mind." He saved for the wear of work what others threw away on the tear of worry.

Here is a sample of the other extreme: Said a Minneapolis lawyer to me recently: "When I began the practice of law, I always lost two nights before I had a case in court, tossing about and combating every thinkable standpoint of my opponent. And I lost as much sleep afterward upbraiding myself for not having thought of certain points at certain pat occasions in the progress of the case." Of what value were these night thoughts to this young attorney? About as much value as night sweats to a consumptive! I venture to say that all the business planning a man does in life while lying on his back at night isn't worth an hour's good thinking on his feet on one June morning. As compared with the sleep it displaces, such night thinking isn't worth forty winks after dinner. Burning the candle at both ends sometimes makes a fine bonfire, but it always makes a bad grease spot of a good candle.—Commercial West.

Knew What He Meant.

The members of the Amish, a peculiar religious sect, mostly agriculturists, are very numerous in Lancaster county, Pa. They have been credited with small sense of humor, but this anecdote of a political campaign will prove to the contrary:

An orator sought to impress a gathering near Paradise, in that county, with his logic, bringing himself down to the level of his listeners by a claim of rural birth. "Why, I was raised between two hills of corn," he declared, "and God's sunshine has ever shone upon me."

For a moment there was a pause, and the politician, fancying he had made an impression, was about to continue his harangue, when a big Amishman in the rear of the hall interrupted, "A pumpkin—I know what he mean."—New York Tribune.

Before the Time of Stoves.

Our modern cooks complain of getting heated over a cooking stove or range, but what would they say if they were obliged to watch and swing a crane back and forth over a rousing and roaring hickory or oak fire in a fireplace from four to eight feet across while in the ashes below, with glowing coals heaped up thereon, potatoes were being roasted, bread in a covered skillet was being baked or a piece of meat was being broiled on the very coals without the intervention of any gridiron or spider? If it be true that "one half the world does not know how the other half lives," it is a still more striking truth that the people of today do not know how their grandparents lived.

The Peach Legend.

Almost all fruits and flowers have their legend. One about the peach comes from Japan and tells how a poor, pious old couple were searching for food by the roadside. The woman found a peach, which she would not eat of, though starving, till she could share it with her husband. He cut it exactly in half, when an infant leaped forth. It was one of the gods, who had, he said, accidentally fallen out of the peach orchard of heaven while playing. He told them to plant the stone of the peach, and it brought them happiness, friends and wealth.

Two Unsophisticated Old Ladies.

When John S. Sargent was directing the placing of his great and thoughtful decoration on the wall of the Boston Public library, he was told that some one desired to speak to him. Descending from the scaffolding where he was at work, he found two old ladies, total strangers, one of whom, addressing him, said: "We are strangers from Roxbury, and we are only in town for the day and have no time to lose. Will you please tell us in as few words as possible what all this painting is about?"—Boston Transcript.

Wakened by a Water Pail.

Many are the schemes practiced by watchmen to enable them to catch a few winks of sleep between rounds. The most ingenious device of all comes from the fertile brain of a man employed in a big Kensington mill. He balances a wide plank across a trestle and on one end sets a pail of water. A very small hole has been punctured in the bottom of the pail, which enables the water to run out slowly. As soon as he finishes his round he lies down on the other end of the plank and is soon snoring. When the water has trickled out of the pail for twenty minutes, his weight counterbalances that of the pail, and he falls to the ground, wide awake, and in time to start on his rounds again.—Philadelphia Record.

Tenors Are Not Cheap.

While traveling from Toulouse to Bordeaux the other day an inspector of the railroad fell fast asleep and was not aroused until the conductor called out the name of a station. As he did not hear the name very distinctly, he summoned the conductor and asked him what station it was.

"Castlesarrazin," was the reply; whereupon the inspector said rather angrily: "Why didn't you call it out more distinctly? No one could understand what you said."

"More distinctly?" repeated the conductor in amazement, and then in a tragical voice he asked, "Do you think that you can hire tenors for 80 francs a month?"

It Had to Come Down.

"I say, Mike, that's Niagara."

"I see it."

"Well, but look. Isn't it wonderful?"

"What's wonderful?"

"Why, Mike, the wather comin' down!"

Won't Follow Advice After Paying For It.

In a recent article a prominent physician says, "It is next to impossible for the physician to get his patient carry out any prescribed course of hygiene or diet to the smallest extent; he has but one resort left, namely, the drug treatment." When medicines are used for chronic constipation, the most mild and gentle obtainable, such as Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, should be employed. Their use is not followed by constipation, as they leave the bowels in a natral and healthy condition. For sale by F. Duhring.

Lord Salisbury, who has just resigned as Premier of England, held office in different capacities for over fifty years.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of ye scribe. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in summer time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal For sale by F. Duhring.

VALUABLE TO COLLECTORS.

Genuine Confederate Money and Stamps Are Getting Scarce.

"Genuine Confederate money and postage stamps have about played out," said a well informed numismatist. "It is no trouble to get counterfeits, however, as there is no law against making counterfeits of this character, and the consequence is that thousands and thousands are on the market. The ten cent Confederate postage stamp is very scarce and readily brings 50 cents each. Thirty different kinds of postage stamps were issued by the Confederate government, but it is difficult to get a full set of the series.

"Some of the most valuable stamps in the world are those issued by some of the local offices in the south. The Crawford stamp, issued at Athens, Ga., is worth $150, and the one issued by the Macon (Ga.) postoffice is worth nearly as much.

"The Confederate money is, of course, nearly all gone, because after it ceased to pass the people of the south gave it to their children to play with, made fire screens, papered houses and put it to many other uses. As I say, very little of the genuine can now be found. But the stamps, bonds and slave deeds are still valuable, but difficult to get hold of. I dare say that if a shrewd fellow could have access to some of the old homes and desks and secretaries in the south he would find a small fortune stored away in the old letters and in the old papers, now kept only as reminders of the writers and of other days.

"Few people realize how many of these old time secretaries, desks and tables have secret drawers. It was the custom in olden days for people of wealth to have secret hiding places made in them, and in them were put the most valuable papers and jewelry. Not infrequently now you will read of valuable papers being found in secret drawers in old articles of furniture which have been in use for years. And, too, there are many of the old southern homes in which are secret closets unknown to the present occupants and, perhaps, filled with articles and documents of value."—Washington Post.

Where Wedding Fees Go.

Most clergymen who are married present their wives with the fees that are handed them for the performance of the wedding ceremony. It is probable, a bishop estimated recently, that not more than 10 per cent of clergymen's wives are denied these little sums. The women expect them as a right. "Indeed," the bishop said, "when a young girl marries a clergyman he who makes the two one informs her of the privilege she may count on and urges her to demand after each ceremony her husband performs that he hand over the fee to her."

A clergyman's wife of Spruce street has invested $8,000 which all came from weddings. A Manayunk woman keeps herself and her children in shoes from the same source of revenue.—Philadelphia Record.

All Sizes.

A lawyer was questioning a witness about some chickens that had disappeared from the back yard of an old negro, who accused several of his neighbors of stealing them. The examination of one witness is reported by the Atlanta Journal as follows:

"Were the chickens in the yard?"

"Yessar."

"Did you see them in the yard?"

"Yessar."

"Were they in a coop?"

"No, sar."

"Were they at large?"

"What, sar?"

"Were the chickens at large?"

"Well, sar, some er 'em was large, but mos' er 'em was li'l' ones."

Carlyle's Method of Work.

Speaking of his method of work, Carlyle said he had found the little wooden pegs which washerwomen employ to fasten clothes to a line highly convenient for keeping together bits of notes and agenda on the same special point. It was his habit to paste on a screen in his workroom engraved portraits, when no better could be had, of the people he was then writing about. It kept the image of the man steadily in view, and one must have a clear image of him in the mind before it was in the least possible to make him be seen by the reader.

How Often the Watch Ticks.

Many watches make five beats per second, 300 each minute, 18,000 every hour, or 432,000 per day. Thus it will be seen that a half dozen turns of the key once a day, taking up but a few seconds of time, stores up a modicum of power in the spring which is cut up into nearly a million of beats. If we multiply the daily beats by 365¼, the number of days in a year, we find that the watch ticks 157,788,000 while the earth is making one annual trip around the sun.

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

BALTIMORE, Md., March 30, 1901.

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours,

F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.
